

Employee Code of Conduct

Conflicts of Interest

The company expects all employees to act with the highest level of integrity. Employees must disclose any personal financial interests in vendors, clients, or competitors to HR and their manager. Undisclosed conflicts are grounds for termination. Annual disclosure forms must be signed every January.